

June 2023 Newsletter

elevationpressbooks@gmail.com
970-856-9891
P.O. Box 603, Cedaredge, CO 81413

June's Featured Author: Trudy Berghauser
trudy.berghauser@gmail.com
970-712-3657

Trudy Berghauser is the author of the young adult fantasy novels, Finding Errtillee, Errtillee Falling, and Saving Errtillee. As a native of Western Colorado, she weaves action-packed novels filled with magic and villains while developing strong characters who value family, friendship, and the belief in oneself. Trudy currently holds her dream job as a writing teacher for middle-school students. When she's not writing or teaching, she enjoys hiking and exploring the mountains and deserts of Colorado and Utah as her imagination takes her on more Errtillee adventures. Here's a link to a video interview featuring Trudy https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=coSmH_Q7R6U

D.P. Benjamin's serialized novel, "Mountain: A Cautionary Tale," is appearing weekly in Western Colorado's High Country Spotlight newspaper. Follow the series beginning with Episode One at this link: <https://www.highcountryshopper.com/spotlight/mountain/>

MEET THE BENJAMINS: Elevation Press is seeking short story and poetry manuscripts to be included in our Winter 2023 Anthology. The winning submission will be awarded a $500 prize. The top two dozen submissions will be published in the anthology and all published authors will receive a copy. The deadline for submissions is September 1, 2023. For contest rules, visit: <https://elevationpressbooks.wordpress.com/>

*Copyright © 2023 by ELEVATION PRESS.
All rights reserved.*

Our email address is: elevationpressbooks@gmail.com